

I am quite happy with Indiana's telephone privacy law. I receive 90% less nuisance calls than before I signed up for this service. I do not believe the federal government could provide the same level of service as my state does. I also do not want the FCC to supercede my state's law that is already on the books.